Royal Regency in Yonkers joins Worldhotels

The Royal Regency Hotel in Yonkers has affiliated with Worldhotels, a group of nearly 500 independent hotels operating in 65 countries, according to a spokesperson for the Royal Regency.

A family-owned boutique hotel at 165 Tuckahoe Road, the Royal Regency has undergone extensive renovations in the last year to its 88 standard guest rooms, five luxury suites and lobby and reception areas as well as to its Crystal Ballroom and meetings and event spaces. The hotel has 11,000 square feet of meeting space and Venue, an onsite restaurant and lounge.

"Worldhotels is an excellent, global partner for the Royal Regency Hotel to team up with to expand our reach," said Maria Pampafikos, hotel co-owner and vice president, in the announcement. "We are thrilled to showcase the hotel's gorgeous renovations and upgrades to a broader market, and Worldhotels is helping us do just that."
